

2010 IIUG Informix Conference

April 25 – 28, 2010

During these economically challenging times you can't afford to miss this 4-day information packed event.

Top Reasons to Attend

- Interact directly with IBM executives, Informix developers, and users at the largest gathering of Informix professionals
- Learn more about Informix products and future product enhancements
- Take advantage of the close proximity to IBM Informix development facility which affords greater access to IBM Informix engineers and developers
- Save $100 with Earlybird registration by January 15th
- Save an additional $100 by being an IIUG member
- Become IBM Informix Certified by taking the IBM Informix Professional Certification exams for FREE

Additional Reasons to Attend

- Attend in-depth Sunday tutorials including, but not limited to, topics on database administration, application development and tools for $150 per one half-day and $250 per two half-day
- Select from 3-full days of technical sessions to meet the needs of novice through experienced IBM Informix users
- Review IBM Informix products by attending sessions presented by Product Sponsors, IBM Partners, IBM Informix developers, support staff and fellow users
- Increase your knowledge and skills allowing you to add value to your organization
- Hear the latest marketing and strategy directions from IBM Executives
- Discuss user enhancement requests with IBM Informix Developers
- Meet with IBM Informix corporate sponsors and 3rd party vendors to find solutions that could improve your business processes

Finally

Network with the best and brightest IBM professionals from around the world to share and expand your knowledge to improve your job skills

Why Attend the 2010 IIUG Conference?

The IIUG Conference tutorials and sessions are designed specifically to increase the attendee's skills and knowledge to improve productivity and maximize problem solving techniques at a nominal cost for organizations. Add to this the valuable information and products provided by our conference sponsors and you can see that this is an event that should not be missed.

2010 IIUG Conference Pricing

Earlybird (thru January 15, 2010)	$599.00
Regular (January 16 - February 2010)	$699.00
Late Registration (March - April 2010)	$849.00
IIUG Member Discount (thru April 21, 2010)	$100.00 off above prices

Estimated Cost to Attend the 2010 IIUG Conference

The IIUG Conference is priced right as we estimate to attend the conference based on early registration, four nights in the hotel and airfare from select USA and European cities to Kansas City.

If you register by January 15, 2010 with your IIUG member Discount, four nights in the hotel ($129 per night plus tax) and estimated airfare from Orbitz as of November 15, 2010. Exchange rates based on Wall Street Journal as of November 15, 2010.

	Boston New York Washington DC	Atlanta	Chicago	Dallas	Denver	Los Angeles San Francisco	London	Paris	Frankfurt
Airfare Estimate	$300	$350	$150	$251	$191	$325	$865	$1,208	$1,073
Total(*)	$1399	$1449	$1249	$1350	$1290	$1424	$1964	$2307	$2172
Total in Local Currency							£1,155	1,441 €	1,357 €

And remember if you are coming from Europe with the very favorable exchange rates to make the conference even less expensive! So you can attend the IIUG conference for most all costs for less than most major other conference registration fees alone. You pay for the airfare, the hotel and the conference registration fee and we have the best Informix sessions available anywhere in the world and serve you up some of the best food at any conference anywhere (and remember we are even throwing in the internet fee unlike many other conferences that cost you up to $12.95 or more a day!)